

Band Drive System for Telescopes, LI-DAR and Other Instruments

Abstract

A band drive system, providing both speed and torque reduction for astronomical telescopes, light detection and ranging systems, and other instruments requiring precision pointing about an axis of revolution. The system consists of two drive disks of unequal sizes coupled by a thin stainless steel drive band.